*The course went beyond my expectations.
I had realizations that I had never dreamed of.
There's no better program than this!*
– Jenna Gantzer

Laurel Hodory, MS ERYT500, is the founder of The Yoga Training Center. She has been certifying teachers and teaching internationally since 2000. She recently expanded her faculty to include Sally Walsh Roberts and Mary Ellen Coleman, both veteran graduates of the YTT and senior yoga teachers. Together the three of them have more than 35 years combined yoga teaching experience and embodied wisdom. A bit like the elements, each brings unique talents to the training that creates a fun and safe environment for participants to grow and rise to the challenge of their highest purpose.
